Description and Dramaturgy of Music Pieces

Here in my Hometown, ballad

A song I wrote and dedicated for Ottawa, Ontario. After three years living in it I made so many friends and lasting relationships. My comfort zone was amidst the lovely congregation of the Southminster United Church on Aylmer street, its choir and its pastors: Rev. Dr. James Christie and, later, Rev. Dr. Meg Illman-White. The panoramic view around it, the ducklings, the little children, their parents and grand parents still live with me. I miss it so much and love it so much! (Written in 2004). Electric piano, harmonica, percussion, strings and vocals. Rafi
